

SAFETY FIRST IS NEEDED IN MORAL DANGERS HE SAYS

Applied Christian Manliness Is Great Need Of Day, Says Rev. Beers.

WARN YOUNG MEN OF THEIR DANGER

Says Young Man's Safety Is Guaranteed By Giving Life To God.

A large audience for a rainy night was expressive of the interest taken in the series of talks to young men by Rev. G. A. Beers of the Baptist church is giving Sunday and Wednesday evenings during the month.

"Is it well with the young man, Absolem?" were the words from which Sunday evening's lessons were taken and the slogan, "Safety First," was the preacher's topic.

"Safety first should be applied to moral and spiritual dangers as well as physical," he said. "It has saved many lives. Many have forfeited life through disregard for its warning. Tomorrow's morning paper will have the name of some who disregarded the 'Stop! Look! Listen! sign of the railroad. The same reckless indifference characterizes many as regards moral and spiritual dangers."

Dangers Young Men Face

"The story of this sad incident reveals 'An anxious heart for an endangered life.' The king had lost his wayward son, but he still loved and was deeply concerned for his safety. He knew Absolem; his weakness, misdeeds and enemies. He had tried to save him but failed. Better to have tried and failed, than never to have made faithful effort."

"Parents know of dangers their children must encounter. Home ties, love, honor, obedience, loyalty—form an anchor that will hold when the storms of temptations, passion and unworthy ambition assail."

"Cutting loose from home restraints, counsel and love is a great danger to the boy. The boy must run the gauntlet of bad habits and evil companionships. Thousands lose out here, become fast, foolish, fallen."

"Danger from pride, conceit and independence is to be avoided. Many overestimate their power to resist influence. 'Think soberly,' says the Book. 'There is danger again when there is an aversion to personal interest in vital Christian life.'"

"So few young men are earnest Christians! So many are carried away with the pleasures of the world, hanging around cigar stores, cream parlors. Tonight if movies and pool rooms were open, they, with many older ones, would choose these resorts to the church."

"When the king learned of Absolem's death he mourned bitterly for him. Not alone because of his untimely death but that father knew his son was unprepared to die. Those who soon are to have the responsibility (Continued from first page.)

LIQUOR IS FOUND, ALEX FINED $300

Police Raid Newgarden St. Home Saturday Night; Prisoner Jailed.

A fine of $300 was handed out by Mayor John W. Post Monday morning in police court when Ted Alex, 31 148 Newgarden st., was arraigned on a charge of illegal possession of liquor.

Alex was arrested at 7:15 p. m. Saturday when Chief of Police T. W. Thompson, Officer Jesse Gray and H. Parker Lowell, of the citizens committee, confiscated nearly a gallon of raisin jack concealed in his home.

Alex is alleged to have been selling liquor during recent weeks and a formal charge of selling was placed against him when he was arrested.

When arraigned Monday morning he entered a plea of guilty to the possession charge but denied any sales of whisky. He is said to have told officers when arrested that he had been selling but declared when arraigned that he had never admitted sales. The selling charge was dismissed because of lack of sufficient evidence to convict.

Alex was unable to pay at once and was remanded to the city jail. He is arranging to pay the fine.

900 Lives Claimed As Windstorm Hits South Korea Coast

Tokio, April 16.—Advices today from Seoul magnify the disaster which accompanied the terrific windstorm along the coast of Southern Korea Saturday.

Official figures today placed the number of missing at 900. So far only 50 bodies have been recovered. Shipping suffered severely. At least 21 motorboats, 197 fishing boats and two sail boats were lost. The monetary toll was estimated at $1,000,000.

COMMONER BACKS HARDING'S WORLD COURT OF JUSTICE

Bryan Says United States Will Benefit By New Court Plan.

Washington, April 16.—Signs of a division of opinion in Democratic ranks over the world court proposal began to make their appearance today to offset the marked splits that have been apparent in Republican circles.

William Jennings Bryan, three-time candidate for the presidency, and still the spokesman for a considerable element of the Democratic party, revealed himself as a wholehearted supporter of President Harding's plan, even though Woodrow Wilson has announced his disapproval of the "conditional" adherence to the court.

Mr. Wilson characterized Mr. Harding's plan as "not in keeping" with the candor and courage of the United States, but this fact did not deter the commoner from asserting it had his approval.

Furthermore, Col. Bryan ventured the prediction that President Harding's proposal will command the "almost solid" support of Democratic senators.

"I am very much in favor of the international court of justice," said Bryan. "I believe the United States will be benefited by joining it. I believe in President Harding's plan as announced namely, that we shall become a member of the court and participate in the election of judges, but shall receive the right to decide for ourselves at the time the part we will take, if any, in enforcing the court's decrees."

"That condition should always accompany our actions when we affiliate with other nations. We certainly can not afford to allow any tribunal to suspend the constitutional right of congress to declare war."

"So long as we reserve the right of independent action we can safely join other nations in investigating international questions."

GRAIN TRADING ACT IS UPHELD

Washington, April 16.—The United States supreme court today declared constitutional the grain futures act, designed to prevent a manipulation of the grain markets on boards of trade and exchanges.

The first futures trading act was declared unconstitutional by the court because congress sought to regulate the grain exchanges by using its taxing power. The law was then amended, but was attacked by the Chicago board of trade and other grain exchanges.

Today's decision is final in giving the secretary of agriculture power to regulate the exchanges.

Speidel Case Is Set For Hearing Tuesday

Judge Riddle Monday morning set Tuesday of this week as the date for the hearing of the charges against D. H. Speidel, the Dungan school teacher who was arrested on charges preferred by probation officers.

Speidel has been out on bond since his arrest. Many witnesses are to be summoned on both sides of the case and a large number of school patrons and other interested parties will be on hand to hear the evidence.

Speidel is charged with contributing to the delinquency of his pupils.

Larger Payrolls Reported By 42 Industries, Many Increase Wages.

Washington, April 16.—Prosperity is marching forward and business conditions are steadily getting better, Secretary of Labor Davis announced here today.

He based his optimistic observations on reports to the department of labor from 3,453 manufacturing establishments for March, showing an increase of 2.1 per cent in number of men employed, five per cent increase in total wages and 2.8 per cent increase in average weekly earnings.

A total of 2,135,554 employees with total earnings in one week of $54,538,778 were reported by these establishments in March, as against 2,092,285 employees and total payrolls of $51,965,545 in February.

Comparing March with February, 39 of the 43 industries reported increases in employment, the greatest being in fertilizer, brick, steel shipbuilding and paper and pulp industries.

Glass, leather, slaughtering and meat packing, and chewing and smoking tobacco industries reported decreased employment.

Increased payrolls were reported by 42 out of 43 industries, ranging from 1.5 to less than one per cent in the pottery industry. Other increases were brick 14.9 per cent; steel shipbuilding 13.1 per cent; millinery and lace goods 11.5 per cent.

Increases in wages were reported by about 400 establishments in 41 of the 43 industries, the leaders being foundries and machine shops, sawmills, furniture, iron and steel, lumber and mill work.

Marathon Dancing Endangers Health Assert Physicians

Philadelphia, April 16.—Marathon dancing is the ruin of good health, is the opinion of prominent citizens of this city.

"The prolonged strain involved in such ridiculous demonstrations as these is exceedingly dangerous," said Dr. Wilmer Krussen, former director of public health today.

Another physician pointed out that the music causes the dancers to forget fatigue when in reality they are working themselves into a state of super-exhaustion.

Without Missing A Step Dancers Abandon Gotham

Five Couples Out To Break Record, Are Ferried Across River.

New York, April 16.—Without missing a single step, five couples out for marathon dancing honors one-stepped from a New York dancing floor early today to a truck and dancing still.

The court sought to end the dance under a section of the penal code passed in the early days of six-day bicycle racing and which prohibits endurance contests for a longer period than 12 hours of every 24.

In New Jersey there are no such prohibitions and when the manager of the dance hall was served with a summons he transferred the whole tournament to another floor in Fort Lee, N. J., 12 miles distant, where the contestants continued the grind begun at 7:10 Saturday night.

If they are still on their feet at 1:10 Tuesday afternoon the record of 65 hours and 30 minutes, established yesterday at Houston, Tex., by Miss Magdalene Williams, will be bettered by 30 minutes.

The fire was marked by acts of heroism as instructors sought to save their little charges, who number about 25.

Prepare For Second Coming Of Christ, Pastor Warns

That the coming of the Lord is imminent, according to the scripture, and that only the time is open was an outstanding thought in a sermon preached by Rev. M. M. Coffin, pastor of the First Friends church Sunday evening, when he used as his theme, "The Second Coming of Christ." This was the first of a series of sermons that Rev. Mr. Coffin plans to preach on this subject.

"There is an event in the future when the Son of God will come back to earth in bodily presence," the speaker declared.

"He is coming with great publicity, unexpectedly and unannounced. The world will be taken up with its usual world of the fact that Jesus Christ is coming back to earth. Our part is to see that we have on the robe of righteousness."

"The purpose of his first advent was to bring salvation and redemption because of the love for his own and to take them home with him that they may behold His glory. Then He is coming again to reign over the kingdoms of the earth. He will not only come as a king but as a judge to render vengeance to those who know not God and obey not His gospel."

Tuesday evening a cottage prayer meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cov. 128 West Pershing ave. The midweek prayer service will be at the church Wednesday evening.

KING NOT GUILTY IS JURY VERDICT IN STOCK CHARGES

Unanimous Verdict Frees Salem Man In Nu Era Company Case.

A unanimous verdict of not guilty was returned by the Carroll county petit jury Saturday for Dr. L. W. King of Salem, K. T. Sanders and Frank J. Cook, charged with irregularities in connection with the sale of stock in the Nu Era Waffle Flour company of Malvern.

The men were indicted by the grand jury at Carrollton during February after stockholders had brought the case to the attention of the state blue sky law commission. They were indicted by the grand jury on March 23 when it was believed that the original indictments would not hold.

The men organized the Nu Era company in Salem about three years ago and first manufactured pancake flour, later producing waffle ovens. When the business failed here, an attempt was made to operate at Malvern and to dispose of more stock in order to place the company on its feet.

A separate indictment was returned charging King with having altered a deed or mortgage negotiated in connection with the purchase of mill property in Malvern. A blanket denial was issued to all charges by the men.

The case went to trial in Carrollton during the latter part of last week and a unanimous verdict of not guilty was returned by the jury for the men. Atty. H. L. McCarthy of Salem represented the defendants.

Watchman Is Slain By Whisky Bandits, 2,000 Barrels Gone

Hammond, Ind., April 16.—Robert J. Anderson, watchman at the Hammond Distillery company here, was killed early today by whisky bandits who made away with part of about 2,500 barrels of whisky stored in the distillery.

Six men were in the raiding party, according to Joseph Stachura, another watchman, overpowered by the bandits. He furnished police with a partial description of the raiders and the truck in which they fled.

NOTORIOUS WOMAN SLAYER FLEES TO CENTRAL AMERICA

She was accompanied by Jesse Carlsen and while here the couple was registered as "Mr. and Mrs. Carlsen, New Orleans."

REPORT DE VALERA HAS BEEN CAUGHT BY STATE TROOPS

Military Headquarters Are Unable To Confirm This Second Report.

CAPTURE MEANS REBEL COLLAPSE

DeValera's Health Is Giving Way Under Strain His Friends Say.

Dublin, April 16.—Eamonn DeValera, head of the Irish Republican movement and the most spectacular figure in turbulent Irish politics, was reported today to have been captured by Free State troops at Roundwood, county Wicklow, 25 miles from Dublin.

Up to noon Free State military headquarters in Dublin were unable to confirm the report, although they were in communication with the Free State commandant at Roundwood.

This was the second time DeValera was reported captured within a week. Ever since Liam Lynch, chief of staff of the Republican irregular army was fatally wounded and captured, Free State troops in Tipperary county and Kilkenny have been hot upon the trail of the elusive DeValera. He was reported hiding in the mountains near Clonmel, but six columns of Free State troops under Gen. Prout made a fine-tooth search without getting any trace of the "Republican president" as DeValera has styled himself.

Before the report of DeValera's capture was received belief had prevailed here that he would either be captured or surrender voluntarily before the end of this week.

Health Giving Way Those who have seen DeValera lately said his health is giving way from the constant strain. He is worn and haggard. The Republican movement, already tottering, is expected to collapse completely when DeValera is taken.

DeValera has been a fugitive since the Four Courts battle in Dublin last June. DeValera took part in this engagement. When the rebels were beaten DeValera and his followers fled from Dublin. They have been conducting guerrilla warfare ever since, but their resources and strength have steadily grown less. Many Republican leaders have either been killed in action or else were executed by Free State firing squads. DeValera, Markiewicz, leader of the rebel women, were the only two prominent chiefs at large.

BRYN APPOINTED TO POLICE FORCE

Appointment Follows Civil Service Test; Begins Duties Monday.

The appointment of William Bryn as a regular member of the Salem police department was announced Monday morning by Safety Director Wilbur Hiddleston. The appointment was effective Monday morning.

Bryn was the only applicant for the police examination conducted last week. His name was certified to Director Hiddleston Friday night by the civil service commission. Bryn has been serving as a special officer for several months and is a former regular on the Salem force.

The appointment of Bryn affords the city better police protection than it has had for several months. With Bryn on the force as a regular the city has three regular policemen on duty in addition to Chief of Police T. W. Thompson.

Chief Thompson is planning a reorganization of the department in order to provide for police protection for every one of the 24 hours daily. He has not announced the arrangement of the shifts. Regular officers work 10 hours daily with one hour off duty for each meal.

Brawn And Brain

AMONG the picturesque expressions in the American vernacular is the somewhat mysterious "charley horse."
Why a man whose muscles are particularly sore from unusual exercise should complain of the presence of this unwelcome equine in his arm or leg is not plain, but at this time of year, when baseball players are lim-bering up their throwing arms and men in general are turning from sedimentary winter life, the term becomes common.

"Charley horse" may be a sign of better things to come if its possessor wills it so. Muscles that have not been exercised for a long time naturally become stiff when their owner is stirred to unaccustomed exertions.
The stiffness may reach a point where their use is attended with much pain, but moderate persistence will result in their limbering up and becoming stronger. Unaccustomed things are likely to be painful. He who sits in an office all day will "feel it" after his first visit to a gymnasium or a bowling alley, but what is really going on is an awakening of dormant powers.

It may be said, however, that there is one sort of exercise that never produces this pain. The man who has not been accustomed to using his head and suddenly starts to do so is safe even from the twinges of "charley horse." This indicates one important difference between muscles and intellect.

Heaven And Earth

A MINISTER of national repute wants people to "pay less attention to the future life and more to life on this earth." He insists that "the important thing is to improve life here."

Not a doubt of it in the world, on any reasonable plane of thinking.
Nearly all of the creeds can agree on this, and the practical opinion of present-day humanity seems to take it for granted.

Whether or not life in heaven is pretty much like life on earth, as the minister referred to suggests, is uncertain. But certain it is that if there is any such place or state as heaven, life here is a preparation for it, and anyone who wants to be happy and good over there had better start practicing for it.

The way to practice, by the general agreement of civilized mankind, is "to improve life here"—for self and others, but especially for others.

SILVER AMONG GOLDEN STORE

Gray Tresses of Tutankhamen's
Queen Found in That Monarch's
Recently Discovered Tomb.

There was silver buried amid the gold with which Tutankhamen's tomb is heaped—the silver of hair. The gray tresses of the ancient king's dead queen have been dragged to light and now rest with other relics rescued from the oblivion to which vanity or greed or whatever it was that prompted their burial and passing centuries condemned it. The monarch who defied death to rob him of his treasure could carry it with him to his tomb, but he could not carry youth there. The years mocked him, as they mock man of today, and worked their havoc upon him and his as they work it on rulers and ruled today.

The gray tresses of the dead king's queen leave no telltale trace of youthful hue. Were they blond or were they gold before age transmutated them to silver? Whatever hue they were, they were cherished by him who was the owner of the huddled wealth at Luxor. He was a king.
And he was a husband. The heart that beat in his breast may have hungered for gold and precious stones and found satisfaction in laying them up, but it also held love of the queen whose locks were buried with him.
Else he would not have given them place among his rarest treasures.

It has been pointed out that not only the direction and intensity of light, but its color, must be considered in estimating its power to reveal fine details. Experiment shows that most persons are short-sighted for blue and violet light. When patterns are illuminated alternately with red, green and blue light, it is found that for ease of seeing minute details blue and green light are preferable to red for short distances, but that at greater distances red light gives the best results.

WOMAN VOTE IS LOSING POTENCY

GENTLER SEX IS LIKE HOUSE DIVIDED AGAINST ITSELF, THINK POLITICIANS.

NO UNITY IN THEIR EFFORTS

Women Have Utterly Diverse Aims and in Consequence Their Influence With the Nation's Lawmakers is Steadily Waning.

Washington.—The National League of Women Voters is to hold its fourth annual convention in Des Moines, Ia., the second week in April. It is understood that one of the matters of moment to be brought before the convention will be what might be called a plan to insure full female representation at the polls when the election days come around.

It probably is not at all beside the truth to say that many of the organizations of women are somewhat disappointed because all of their sisters seemingly have not taken advantage of the change in the Constitution and in the laws which give the gentler sex the right to cast its ballot on an equality with the ballot of the sterner sex.

Men politicians seem to believe that in a way the women constitute a house divided against itself. Many thousands of the women of the country believe that women should vote as women and that therefore there should be a woman's party. Hundreds of thousands of women believe that a woman's party is, so to put it, "bad business" and that it is the duty of the women voters to align themselves with an existing political party and to attempt through it to secure legislation which they believe will be particularly helpful to the causes in which they are interested.

The rallying cry of one branch of womankind is, "Do It Through a Woman's Party," while the cry of the opposition is, "Do It Through the Old Parties."

There will be only one woman to hold a seat in the next congress of the United States. The sex seemingly has not made as much progress toward recognition in the field of national office holding as it was thought would be the case. There are political leaders here who say the women made the initial mistake of thinking that they must press for their legislation as women and not merely as American citizens seeking that which is good.

It is certain, as has been said frequently in Washington correspondence, that woman has lost some of her influence with the national lawmakers and largely because the women have not succeeded in getting together upon any one program of action.

There may be exaggeration in the claims of the party leaders as to the comparative strength of the body of women which on the one hand cling to the old parties, and the body which wants a party of its own, but it is known definitely that the men politicians are paying less attention to the pleas of women for certain public legislation because they think there is not the solid support of womankind back of the things for which there is agitation.

One needs to be in Washington only for a short time to learn something of the division in the ranks of the women. There is one woman's organization which is spending a large part of its time and energy in trying to influence congress to do away entirely with the army and navy, to recognize soviet Russia, to condemn the action of France in entering the Ruhr, and to secure the release of the prisoners in penal institutions who were convicted of sedition or seditious utterances during the war.

On the other hand, there is a large body of women which is seeking to nullify the efforts of their sisters who are moving along the paths outlined in the foregoing paragraph. Recently the women in opposition asked the Department of Justice to proceed against certain radical elements in the United States with which their sisters apparently are in full sympathy.

There is one body of women which tried and partly succeeded in securing the passage of legislation in congress which would in a way give to Uncle Sam control of what might be called the family affairs of the people. Another body of women opposed this legislation, and it will oppose any other attempts along like lines.

No matter what the exact truth may be about the situation, one thing seems to be certain—that the men interested in party matters are paying less attention today to the problem of the woman vote as such, because they have found that the majority of the women do not care to vote in a bunch as women, but rather as American citizens who do not think always along sex lines.

The Sex.

"Women," said the dealer, "are funny animals."

"They are," said the fellow who opened. "Gimme two off the top."

"Siding an ace, are yuh? Yeah, women, as I say—one? If yuh wanta get away with anything just tell 'em th' truth an' they won't believe it. I told my wife I was goin' to play poker tonight an' she nearly laughed her head off. She knows darned well I've gone to th' Y. M. C. A. I'm such a liar!"—Richmond Times Dispatch.

TRUANCY PROBLEM TO BE EXPLAINED

County Officer Will Speak At Annual Meeting Of County Teachers.

Lisbon, April 16.—One of the features of the coming meeting of the Columbiana County Teachers' association will be an address by the county truant officer, Ira Hassler, who will talk on the methods used in keeping children in school and the policies followed in routing parents to a sense of their duty.

Mr. Hassler has been truant officer for the past two years, and in that time he has caused the arrest of many who refused to send children to school. In cases where destitution and want have kept children away from school, the county school authorities, in connection with the county Red Cross chapter, have provided clothing for the youngsters.

His address will be particularly interesting as he has had a large experience in dealing with cases of indifference and neglect.

"In all these cases publicity is avoided as much as possible," said Mr. Hassler last night, "unless the parents have proven so stubborn that fines were necessary. In cases where the child has proven recalcitrant, they have been made wards of the juvenile court and are now attending school under the supervision of the probation officer in the district in which they live."

The teachers' meeting promises to be one of the largest attended in recent years owing to the varied program and the many interesting talks that are scheduled to be given by educators and school workers.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN

Next Sunday afternoon another of the series of lectures on child care will be given at the church. All mothers of the cradle roll department, and other mothers of the city are welcome to attend these lectures. This will be a child care demonstration and lecture. The conference will be called at 2:30 p. m.

The choir will meet early next Friday night for rehearsal. All singers are asked to be at the church by 7 o'clock so that they may later attend the High school plays.

The summer vacation school will open July 2, with Mrs. Ross Clay as principal. Mothers may secure information by communicating with Mrs. Clay.

Harvey Harris will be the leader at the prayer service Wednesday night. His topic will be "Peter's Great Sermon."

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

Find No Evidence of Graft In Vet Bureau

Washington, April 16.—No evidence to support graft charges against veterans' bureau officials have been found by Director Hines since he took charge of the bureau six weeks ago, he said, in discussing the inquiry now being conducted by a senate committee.

Recently John F. O'Ryan, special counsel for the investigating committee, said he believed that "dishonesty on a big scale" would be found in the course of the inquiry. The director emphasized today, however, that although he had made a number of changes in bureau personnel to effect economies and insure a more compact organization, he had not acted on "any evidence of graft."

The "heartless deception" practised by poultrymen on their egg-layers, by means of electric lights in the chicken house, has now been intensified through dimming devices, which make the "dawn" come slowly and naturally. This is reported to have disarmed the last of the skeptics among the hens.

He has won the confidence and esteem of all by his honorable dealings and he POSITIVELY GUARANTEES SUCCESS in trouble, advises in love, marriage, divorce, business, speculation, investment—in fact, everything.

DR. GORDEN is different from all others, because he not only reads your life like an open book, but he also HELPS YOU OUT OF YOUR TROUBLES. For instance what good would it do you simply to be TOLD that you had a rival or enemy in your path unless you were told just HOW to overcome them, or in case you wanted to win the love of any certain one, would you be satisfied just to be TOLD about it, or would you not rather know HOW you could win your desire—in fact, it does you no good to be simply TOLD OF YOUR TROUBLES unless the medium is able to point out the path to success and happiness. There is a cure for everything if we but go at it in the right way. Because you have tried and failed is no sign that results are impossible.

Question Of Continuing On Present Scale Is Topic For Tuesday Night.

The question of continuing the Salem Chamber of Commerce on its present basis will furnish the principal topic for discussion at the regular monthly meeting at 8 p. m. Tuesday. The directors emphasize the importance of wholehearted support of those who are already members and the need of enlisting nearly 100 new members.

During the past year under the administrations of Charles H. Coburn and D. B. McCune the organization has paid off all outstanding obligations, but to continue on the same progressive scale many more members will be needed, according to the board of directors.

D. E. Mather is chairman of the membership committee which includes James A. Pidgeon, Henry S. Wilson, Miss Hallie Roessler, W. A. Forney, Lawrence D. Beardmore, R. P. Fawcett and E. E. Enderlin. It will be the purpose of these men assisted by the directors to secure the united support of merchants, manufacturers and professional men back of the Chamber of Commerce.

DISCOVER SHORT WEIGHT IN SALEM

State Inspector On Tour Of County Checking Up On Weights.

L. C. Tinkey and W. A. Sutter, officials of the State Bureau of Weights and Measures, came to Lisbon Thursday to check up and test the standards for weights and measures used by County Sealer W. H. Barr. Mr. Tinkey has been county sealer of Knox county since 1912 and has recently been appointed a state inspector.

Complaints have been made to the local sealer recently of dealers in different parts of the county who have been short weighing their customers. The state department was notified by Mr. Barr and the state officials were in Salem Friday. They visited a number of stores and made purchases of goods sold by the pound which were taken to another store and weighed and in one instance was found to be considerably less than the amount for which it was sold for, thus verifying the complaint.

They did not state what action would be taken in the matter, but stated they would return before long and visit other towns in the county.

Your Telephone Can Sing.
Did you know it is possible to play a tune on an ordinary telephone receiver? asks London Tit-Bits.

The musical telephone works in the same way as the usual speaking instrument. When you talk into a telephone your voice moves a little disk which alters the power of an electric current, thus moving a duplicate disk at the other end of the line. This second disk translates the electric wave back into human language.

In the musical telephone, instead of talking into a mouthpiece, various buttons are pressed which alter the electric current in the same way that your voice does. This causes the disk in the receiver to move up and down.

In this way various notes are produced, and if the apparatus can be varied sufficiently, whole tunes may be played.

Experiments have shown that electric lights can be played in the same way. A big arc lamp has been made to play "God Save the King."

PASTOR DISCUSSES COMMUNITY WORK

Rev. Harman Asks Members If They Are Interested In Aiding City.

Are you actively interested in building up your community or do you merely profess to be interested? That is the question propounded to his congregation Sunday morning by Rev. J. P. Harman of the Holy Trinity English Lutheran church.

The pastor placed the church, the Chamber of Commerce, the Community Service association, the Salvation Army, the hospitals and other similar institutions high among the agencies that are working for community improvement.

He made a pointed comparison between the type of people who by financial support, attendance and personal service actually advance the work of community building agencies and the type of people who admit that these are all worthy things but who lack the sense of civic responsibility that prompts others to get out and do something worth while.

County Threshermen Plan Annual Meeting

Detailed plans for the annual meeting June 16, at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, and the annual banquet a November were made at a meeting of the Columbiana and Mahoning Brotherhood of Threshermen Saturday evening at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, L. M. Hole, Kensington, the president, presided.

Roy C. West outlined steps that were taken to defeat the Knapp and Bloom bills introduced in the legislature, both designed to compel the removal of cleats. Much satisfaction was expressed over the defeat of these bills.

A general discussion of the problems of threshermen in the two counties was a feature. While the acreage is not so large as that of last year, the wheat crop in this territory promises to be good, according to sentiment expressed.

NATIONAL LEAGUE TEAMS READY FOR OPENING TUESDAY

New York, April 16.—(Continued) 24-hour jump on their American League rivals, eight National League teams are scheduled to break through the barrier tomorrow in the formal opening of the 1923 baseball season. For the inaugural, east will be east and west will be west and the 'twain' will not meet for some weeks thereafter, this being one of the inviolate precepts of schedule-making.

In the east the world's champions New York Giants will open away from home in order to give the Yanks first chance at the cash customers at an occupation of the new Yankee stadium on Wednesday. The Giants will play at Boston with the Phillies and Dodgers doing the honors at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn.

In the west, Pittsburgh will open at Chicago and St. Louis at Cincinnati.

Cleveland, April 16.—Cleveland's baseball team, much stronger and faster than in either of the past two years will arrive from its long stay in the south tomorrow morning. Their final game at New Orleans yesterday was marked by a 9 to 3 victory over New Orleans, in which Metevier starred as a pitcher.

Present indications are that either Clevelok or Sherrod Smith, ex-Dodger will pitch the opener against Chicago Wednesday.

SAFETY FIRST

(Continued on fifth page.) ties of home, business, industry, government placed on their shoulders should avoid the pitfalls of sin and seek that preparation of heart, mind and body that will fit them for the tremendous responsibilities that they must assume.

How Safety Is Guaranteed

"The young man's safety is guaranteed when he gives his life to God and becomes a true Christian. A man with a new nature, companionships, deals, objective when he engages in his activities of the Christian life; becoming a man of faith, prayer, devotion and spiritual power; taking his place in the church and becoming a positive unit in God's forces of righteousness."

When he takes his Christian principles and ideals out into his everyday life and by clean living, honest dealing and virile Christian manhood he helps to make his little world better, and so recommends to others the kingdom of the Lord Jesus Christ of which he is a worthy son and heir. Applied Christian manliness is the great need of our day."

The song service, led by the orchestra, was enjoyed by all and the two selections by the male quartet were well received.

Wednesday evening mid-week service topic will be "The Young Man Battling Temptation."

Concerning Investments

America has become a nation of investors, and we make the following suggestion to those who may be contemplating making an investment in stocks or bonds.

Be sure that values of the securities you have in mind have tangible, intrinsic worth, convertible into cash if needs be. GOOD MANAGEMENT and "good will" are much to be desired, but always remember that they are personal equations which can crumple overnight in incompetent hands.

Our Services are at your command in the selection of your investments.

How is it possible to give you quality at the low cost of 10 cents for 50 cigarettes?

SUGAR ONCE MORE CAUSES TROUBLE

GOVERNMENT TRYING TO FIND OUT WHY THE PRICE HAS BEEN ADVANCING,

"LEAK" IN CAPITAL INVOLVED

Speculators Learned the Contents of Department of Commerce Bulletin
Three Days Before Its Release, and Someone May Be Punished.

By EDWARD B. CLARK
Washington—Uncle Sam is taking a deep and rather sudden interest in the country's sugar bowl. Secretary Hoover of the Department of Commerce and Augustus T. Seymour, assistant to the attorney general, jointly are trying to learn the whys and wherefores of the sudden advance in sugar prices, which began about eight weeks ago with a jump of one cent a pound. The tariff commission is also looking into the matter.

Sugar, curiously enough, on more than one occasion has done something to sour the disposition of the Governmental Uncle of us all. Sugar growers, sugar refiners, sugar sellers, and sugar speculators have individually or collectively borne the brunt of governmental attack off and on for years. Now there is in progress another assault, and the wonder is that if this time anything or anybody is to be brought back captive.

Again, Washington is interested in what specifically, sharply and perhaps picturesquely is called a "leak." A jump of sugar information which was to be carefully guarded for some days, melted, leaked through a crevice in the receptacle of secrecy, and the charge is that speculators and others interested in the sugar market secured a few drops of the leakage and were enabled to profit thereby, to the disadvantage of the general consuming public.

Leaks Don't Come Often.

It is the habit of government departments to prepare statements of various kinds for publication and to put thereon a release date, binding those who receive the information to hold it sacred until the day set for its submission to the reading public. It is not once in many hundreds of times probably that any one violates the confidence thus imposed in him. On only one or two occasions has a "leak" been traced to persons who were given the advance notices because of confidence they would not reveal anything until the proper time. Generally speaking, leaks have come from persons who had no right to the information, but who managed to secure it through means best known to themselves.

On February 9 of this year a bulletin was issued by the Department of Commerce which contained a statement on the supply of sugar in this country. The contents of the bulletin were not to be released for publication until February 12. Somehow or other the speculators in New York and elsewhere were notified of the contents of the bulletin, their information coming to them late on the day of the bulletin's issue.

It seemingly is the suspicion of the government that the information in this bulletin was used in a distorted form to bring about an advance in the price of sugar, and to give an opportunity to certain interests to make preparations for further advances in the price of the commodity to the consumer.

It may be that investigation will show who it was that "leaked," and it may be as a result that someone will be punished. If a department employee gave out the information he probably will lose his job. If some person to whom the information was sent for publication at the proper time released it in advance, he will be blacklisted so that no more confidential government documents shall reach his office.

Famous Instance of Wartime.

In the year 1916 there was a "leak" which became notorious and which led to a congressional investigation. This "leak" had nothing to do with sugar, but it had something to do with matters of greater moment—peace and war. One morning newspaper correspondent in Washington learned that on the afternoon of that day a statement of high importance would be given out by the State department. It was believed at that time that President Wilson was just about to put out what was called a peace feeling, or in other words, he was to make an attempt to bring about peace between the warring countries in Europe. This was at a time before the United States had entered the war.

Virtually every correspondent in Washington believed that the confidential information that a statement was to be given out in the afternoon meant that an attempt to bring about peace was to be made by the President. The correspondents felt in duty bound to withhold from the public even the general statement that something was coming from the secretary of state.

There was consternation in Washington and anger in the State department when it was learned that New York business circles, the speculative circles particularly, had received a tip from Washington that a peace feeling was likely to be forthcoming before the day was over.

"Well, there is one less sufferer from stomach trouble in Canton, Ohio, I am glad to state, and myself, and it's all because I gave Tanlac a chance," says S. W. Montague, 1818 East Tuscarawas st., Canton, Ohio, well-known auto repair shop owner.

"I suffered for a solid year, and believe me I was in bad shape, too. I could scarcely eat a bite, and did not want to either, for indigestion was my sworn enemy. Terrible gas pains extended up through my chest, and many times I was in such misery I would roll on the floor. I was terribly nervous, was so run-down I couldn't get up a pound of steam for work, and how I managed to keep going is a mystery to me.

"But I have all my strength and health back since taking the Tanlac treatment. I don't have an ailment of any kind, and feel, look and act like a new man. Tanlac can't be beat the world over."

DRIVE AN OVERLAND AND REALIZE THE DIFFERENCE

Gas Mask Developed With Phonographic Attachment

Washington, April 16.—American ingenuity has again blazed the trail of achievement in the development of last-minute equipment for war.

A gas mask with a phonographic attachment which enables the wearer to talk with practically the same facility as in ordinary conversation has just been developed by the chemical war service of the army. It was learned officially today.

Despite the ban put on use of gas in warfare by all the great powers at the Washington arms conference, each country has been energetically pursuing scientific protective methods against the deadly fumes, indicating at least a suspicion on the part of the powers that when and if war comes gas again will be used, despite its banishment.

This latest American development, taken in conjunction with other recent improvements, officials state, makes the American mask the most efficient in the world. Arrangements are now being made for the manufacture of the new masks on a large scale at Edgewood arsenal, and within a short time they will form part of the regular equipment of the American army.

The new speaking attachment is declared by army authorities to have 80 per cent of the efficiency of the ordinary speaking voice and it causes no decrease in the protective qualities of the mask against poisonous gases.

Five New Features

The new American army masks will embody the following features:

1—Diaphragm or phonographic speaking attachment, which overcomes fundamental handicap of old masks, enabling officers and men to give orders and to converse with each other.

2—American army "all-purpose canister," which is proof against not only the ordinary gases used in warfare, but against the deadly carbon monoxide and ammonia fumes as well. This feature is expected to make the mask invaluable for fire-fighting, the fumigation of ships and for workers in coal mines.

3—Special features in construction of canister which lessen air resistance and reduce the distress of breathing to practically a negligible quantity.

4—Device for passing dry air from the chemicals over the eyeclasses in the mask so that collection of moisture on the glass is prevented, thus greatly improving vision.

5—Special arrangement whereby the case containing chemicals is carried under the arm instead of on the chest as in other types, thus allowing the wearer greater freedom of bodily movement.

"Padlock" Provision Is Used To Close Hotels, Drug Stores

Washington, April 16.—The "padlock" provision of the Volstead law is being used increasingly in prohibition enforcement according to Prohibition Commissioner Haynes who said today that about 50 hotels, cafes and cabarets, including many of national prominence, had been closed by such exercise of law during the last few months.

A number of drug stores, he added, also have been closed.

"The padlock provision," said Mr. Haynes, "has been invoked quite generally in east and middle west and on the Pacific coast. Recently has such action been taken in the southern states."

Under the padlock provision any room, house, vehicle or boat where illegal liquor transactions are discovered may be closed for one year as a public nuisance or sold to pay fines and costs. Originally the provision was enforced somewhat laxly.

Commissioner Haynes said the policy now was for strict interpretation. "When real estate owners find that their property is subject to a permanent injunction and violators find they are subject to contempt proceedings," said Mr. Haynes, "the effect is better co-operation with enforcement officials."

"Landlords who wish to get rid of bootlegging tenants have the assistance of prohibition agents in obtaining evidence, permission having recently been granted by the treasury department to allow agents to give testimony in cases where the landlord has no guilty knowledge of the tenants bootlegging. Under the Volstead act, property owners can also eject through state courts tenants who, on reliable testimony, are known to be illegally selling liquor."

FIGHT M'CARTHY BLAZE ONE HOUR

Firemen Are Handicapped By Dense Smoke, 200 People Help.

It required more than one hour's work for firemen to extinguish a stubborn blaze at the home of Atty H. L. McCarthy, Cleveland and North Union late Saturday afternoon, when flames originating in the basement of the home threatened the entire building with destruction.

Handicapped by dense smoke coming from the basement, the firemen were forced to subdue the blaze wearing smoke masks. The origin of the blaze is undetermined.

The flames rapidly ate their way through the partitions and walls from the basement to the attic of the home. Practically all the furniture was carried to safety by neighbors and friends. More than 200 people were on hand at the fire and proved of great assistance in removing furniture.

Two streams of water and large quantities of chemicals were required to extinguish the flames. Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy were not at home when the flames were discovered. Neighbors notified the fire department and a second alarm was sounded. The damage has not been determined.

Up till as late as the middle of the 17th century to call a man an "idiot" did not necessarily imply that he was not mentally fit, but merely that he was just an ordinary private citizen.

400,000 DECREASE IS REPORTED IN FARM POPULATION

Washington, April 16.—A decrease during 1922 of approximately 400,000 persons in the agricultural population of the United States was reported today by the department of agriculture, which said its figures were passed on a survey of 10,000 representative farms and groups of farms. The estimate which included not merely workers but men, women and children living on farms, showed a decrease of about 1.5 per cent from the 1920 census, which placed the agricultural population in rural districts at 31,359,000 persons.

The population movement away from the farm, the department stated, was strongest in the Pacific states, while the percentage of loss was greater than the average for the entire country in the west, south central and New England state as well as in the Pacific group.

The movement from farms to towns and cities last year was estimated at about 2,000,000 persons effect in part by the shift of approximately 880,000 persons from farms and cities to farms. This left, it was pointed out, a net shift from farms to urban centers of about 1,120,000 persons, or about 3.6 per cent of the rural agricultural population.

Births on farms in 1922 were given as 925,000 and deaths as 255,000, the excess of births over deaths reducing the net loss in agricultural population to the 400,000 figure.

In the shift of agricultural population to cities and towns relatively largest movement was in the mountain states, followed in order by New England, the Pacific, the middle Atlantic, the east-north central and the south Atlantic states, all above the national average. Below were the west south central the west north central and east south Atlantic states.
